

1.Which API is referred?

Fb API

2.What did you understand about the API's?

It is an interface that allows developers to interact with and access fb data and functionalities programmatically. By using the fb API, developers can integrate fb features into their applications, such as retrieving user profiles, posting updates, watching videos and more.

3.Some of the key points about fb APIs

1. Authentication: It uses OAuth 2.0 for authentication in the fb API, which means the developers can access token to make authorised API requests.

2. Profile data: The API provides access to a user's profile information(name, headline, post,events and bio). Developers can retrieve this data and display it within their applications or use it for various purposes.

3. Messaging: It is possible to send messages to fb messenger services ,it connects the API, developers allows messaging functionality into their applications.

4. posting: The API allows developers to search and upload posts in fb profile .This feature can be used to display the posts of every single user.

5.What are the Business utilities of the APIs?

1.Advertising and analytics

2.Marketing

3.graph api

4.Learning and Development

5.social media platforms

